COBOURG ILLUSTRATED..

N presenting this illustrated description of Cobourg, no attempt will be made by either pictures or words to portray the many features that the town enjoys as a commercial, manufacturing or shipping centre, any of which is worthy of special notice. Rather this booklet will deal more especially with the prominence that it has attained as a summer resort.

No town in Canada of the same size contains so many beautiful residences, which have been erected by wealthy Americans as their summer or permanent homes. It is not necessary to deal in extravaganzas concerning its local advantages, on the contrary only a plain statement of facts will be made such as may be readily corroborated by those who have had the opportunity of fairly testing its peculiar advantages as a desirable locality for rest or recreation, possessing, as it does, all the essentials for domestic economy, salubrity, accessibility and beauty of situation.

Cobourg is not going to be a summer resort sometime in the future, but is now the most popular summer town in Canada, and has the largest number of visitors who make it their summer home in the Dominion, and this elite colony is increasing every year as the town's popularity becomes wider and better known. Its splendid hotel accommodation has always been its leading feature. Besides the first-class commercial hotels it has several exclusively summer houses, the Arlington, Columbian and Annex, Baltimore and Cedarmere. It is well within the mark to say that hundreds of would-be guests have not been able to secure accommodation, but arrangements have been perfected whereby this deficiency has been met.

A fact which speaks more plainly than pages of eulogy is that families who came here fifteen or twenty

PLEASING FEATURES.

A very marked feature of the town as a summer resort is the variety of amusements afforded. The splendid golf links, with well-equipped golf club house, include, as well, a fine, new bowling green ; so that the votaries of these popular pastimes can combine them at the same place and enjoy the society of their friends who pursue one or the other sport. Good tennis courts are found at the different hotels as well as in numerous spacious private lawns. The owners of the larger places, whether permanent or transient residents, are most generous in extending a warm welcome to visitors. The great lake, with its broad, sandy beaches, offers a most tempting bathing ground for ladies and children, and coupled with this the "chute" is always well patronized.

Socially, Cobourg has always been one of the most aristocratic places in Canada, and it remains true to its traditions. As a result society functions are numerous, and well dressed women and well groomed men are constantly found on every hand.

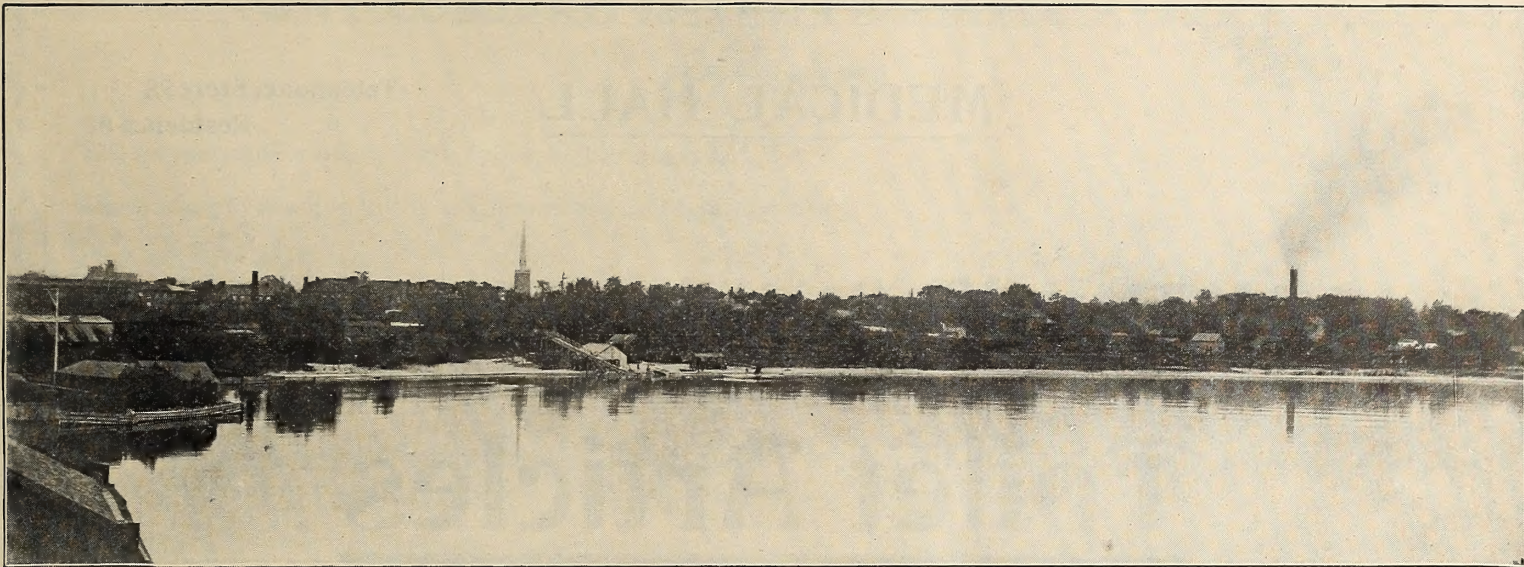

Large "hops" are given at the Arlington, Columbian, Baltimore and Cedarmere hotels, while teas, card parties and entertainments, small and great, follow one another in rapid succession. There is nothing cheap about either Cobourg, its people or its visitors, but everything is solid, finished and dignified.

years ago, and for the first time enjoyed the invigorating atmosphere of this locality, have returned every year since until every state in the Union, as well as the leading cities of the Dominion, have their representative families making Cobourg their home for the summer season.

Among the illustrations in this booklet will be found a number of handsome residences which have been erected or greatly improved by prominent citizens of the United States and Canada. To do this hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent until to-day many cities cannot boast of the wealth and magnificence which Cobourg has within its limits.

WATERFRONT.

(Huston, Photo

The citizens have been fully alive to the situation, and have supplemented what nature has so kindly bestowed upon them by putting in a first-class system of waterworks and sewerage, and keeping the streets in excellent condition. Few towns in the Dominion can surpass Cobourg in that respect. The natural situation of the town, gently sloping down to the lake, ensures excellent drainage and makes sanitation perfect under an ever vigilant Board of Health.

The soil being clay loam all kinds of trees flourish luxuriantly, and, as a result, every street, excepting the main business thoroughfare, is a leafy embowered avenue.

WHY COBOURG IS THE FAVORITE RESORT.

It is clean and healthy.

The temperature seldom rises above eighty degrees.

There are no swamps in the neighborhood to breed disease.

Its hotels are first class.

Its low assessment and reasonable rate of taxation make it an economical place to live.

By its merchants being fully alive to requirements of customers, it is possible to buy everything at prices and of quality equal to any city.

When preparing for next season's outing place Cobourg on your list, and go and testify with the thousands of others that the lives of Cobourg's citizens have fallen in pleasant places.

The approaches to Cobourg are numerous and the access to the town easy to obtain all the year round. The town is seventy miles east of Toronto and ninety-six miles west of Kingston, on the G.T.R. line, and no less than four passenger trains pass through the town, going each way, every day—four going west and four going east. During the summer months the steamers of the R. & O. Navigation Company, plying between Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal, call here once or twice every day. The Canadian Pacific R. R. line runs through Peterborough from Ottawa to Toronto, and vice versa, and the G.T.R. Midland section connects with the Pacific at Peterborough from Port Hope, so that passengers by that route can come to Cobourg by train twice each day, from either point, through Port Hope. The R. & O. Navigation Company run steamers, during summer, every day between Cobourg and Charlotte, the port of Rochester, N.Y., the steamer arriving daily (Sundays excepted) at Cobourg at one o'clock p.m. Mail stages, carrying passengers, leave Cobourg daily for points in the country north. The charming summer resort at Rice Lake is situated twelve miles north of Cobourg, and the drive thereto is very enjoyable, through a picturesque and well settled farming country.
